

CHRISTINE

Once christine went to do a performance at the opera theater in paris, where in that performance there was a count and his brother the viscount, the viscount as soon as he saw the beautiful christine fell in love with her. but in that performance there was also the ghost of the opera, who just like the viscount fell in love with her at first sight, that was a love fight between the two of them. The viscount approached her at the end of the performance and the two fell in love directly, when the ghost saw that they were united, he decided to kidnap Christine to have it only for him, but the viscount found out about the ghost's plan and they stayed between a hand in hand, finally the ghost decided to return Christine and the ghost continued to walk through the basement of the opera.

His father was an ordinary farmer.

The angel of Music is the phantom.

