

THE ENDING

I did not like the end of the story because I would have preferred that they had not left the ghost alone since in the end he is a kind, kind person and all people deserve a second chance.

The end of the story that I would have liked would be that the three of them were happy and that they did not leave the ghost because in the end he had done a good deed.

